Capitalization Of Poetry:

Capitalization rules are the guidelines for using upper case letters in the written word. Capitalize the first letter of every sentence; every line of poetry; proper names of persons, places, days; titles of religion, honor or distinction; words of nationality; most words derived from proper names; the letters I and O when used as words; and sometimes other special words or emphatic words, phrases, and clauses.

Whole Duty of Children

A child should always say what's true

And speak when he is spoken to.

And behave mannerly at table:

At least as far as he is able.

And blown by all the winds that pass

And wet with all the showers,

She walks among the meadow grass

And eats the meadow flowers.

My Shadow

I have a little shadow that goes

in and out with me,

And what can be the use of him

is more than I can see.

He is very, very like me from the heels up to the head;

And I see him jump before me,

when I jump into my bed.

The funniest thing about him is the way he likes to grow—

Not at all like proper children,

which is always very slow;

For he sometimes shoots up taller, like an India-rubber ball,

And he sometimes gets so little that there's none of him at all.

He hasn't got a notion of how children ought to play,

And can only make a fool of me

in every sort of way.

He stays so close beside me, he's a coward you can see;

I'd think shame to stick to

to me!

One morning, very early, before the sun was up,

I rose and found the shining

dew on every buttercup;

But my lazy little shadow, like an errant sleepyhead,
