Capitalization Of Sentences:

Capitalization rules are the guidelines for using upper case letters in the written word. Capitalize the first letter of every sentence; every line of poetry; proper names of persons, places, days; titles of religion, honor or distinction; words of nationality; most words derived from proper names; the letters I and O when used as words; and sometimes other special words or emphatic words, phrases, and clauses.

Say it! Write it! Repeat it!

God is good in all He does.

Dad loves me all day long.

Mom loves me just the same.

Mary bakes bread each morning.

Joseph carves wood beautifully.

John works near the river docks.

Peter was an ordinary fisherman.

Do your duty first before all else.
