

Name: _____ Date: _____

Indirect Object Pronouns:

An indirect object is the noun or pronoun that receives the direct object and is formed in the objective case. It is another objective complement. An objective pronoun is a word used instead of a noun to name an object. Say it! Write it! Repeat it!

He gave me papers.

Bob read you the book.

Anne told him the news.

Mark sent her flowers.

Jenna gave it water.

Mother cooked us chicken.

Dad made you salad.

We gave them pictures.