

Infinitive Verb

An infinitive is a verb that is used as a noun often preceded by “to”, that has –ing only in the progressive form. It names an action. It is too warm to skate: “to skate” is the infinitive verb used as a noun.

An infinitive, like a gerund, can be used as a subject, direct object, indirect object, object of a preposition, predicate nominative, and as an appositive because it can be used as a noun.

An Infinitive Verb Phrase is a group of words that consists of an infinitive and of the words that modify or complement it.
