

Name: _____ Date: _____

Sentence Construction Conjunctions:

A conjunction is a word, or group of words, that joins sentence parts, sentences, and paragraphs. A conjunction does not take an object as does a preposition.

Say it! Write it! Repeat it!

The cat and kitten eat quickly.

A banana or a strawberry ripens fast.

Does a feather or a brick fall heavily?

Strong dogs and horses jump high.

Most dogs and puppies bark often.

Blue skies and white clouds shine brightly.

Smart and healthy children excel

frequently.

Name: _____ Date: _____

Sentence Construction Conjunctions:

A conjunction is a word, or group of words, that joins sentence parts, sentences, and paragraphs. A conjunction does not take an object as does a preposition.

Say it! Write it! Repeat it!

Kind and thoughtful children rejoice heartily.

Good men and women help cheerfully.

Those cats and raccoons prowled nightly.